Our Flag Forever.

"I know of no mode in which a loyal citizen may so well demonstrate his devotion to his country as by sustaining the Flag the Constitution and the Union, under all circumstances, and UNDER EVERY ADMINISTRATION REGARDLESS OF PARTY POLITICS, AGAINST ALL SASAILANTS, AT HOME AND ABROAD."—STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS.

Opportune Rebel Testimony.

The horrors of the Libby prison, against which the civilized world has so loudly but fruitlessly protested, it appears have even shocked the sensibilities of a Richmond journalist, a representative of the human species which it was believed no outrage, no act of cruelty, could appal. The editor of the Enquirer with unusual boldness has ventured to express in print his opinion of that charnel-house, and to describe what he saw within its walls, while on a visit of curiosity to see the incarcerated "Yankees." He says "The Libby takes in the captured Federals by scores but lets none out; they are huddled up and jammed into every nook and corner; and at night the floor of every room they occupy is covered, every square inch of it, by uneasy slumberers, lying side by side and heel to head, as tightly packed as if the prison were a huge improbable box of nocturnal sardines. It is truly surprising that some pestilence has not been the result of this herding together of human beings who are constantly breathing the same impure air, and who are allowed no out-door exercise. If it should become necessary to reduce their diet to cold corn bread, they will not have strength enough in them even to masticate it." What an exposure is this of rebel cruelty. What a commentary upon the boasted chivalry and hospitality of the South. Thousands of brave heroes, many of them suffering from the effects of honorable wounds or of continued sickness, are confined in such a circumscribed space that their appearance after nightfall, when their eyelids are closed, and their minds are relieved of the agony with which during the day they are afflicted, reminds the facetious editor of a box of sardines; and yet the day pass by, and the brutal captors, gloating over the suffering and pain they are inflicting take no step to remedy the evil.

The statement which we published yesterday from the Enquirer should be circulated throughout the length and breadth of the loyal States. It will prove a greater stimulus to recruiting than all the addresses combined that our authorities, civic and military, can promulgate. Two corps at least, are being reorganized for special service, and rumor designates the rebel capital as the point to which they will march under the leadership of brave and experienced commanders, and the release of the captives is said to be one of the great objects to be attained. What greater incentive can be offered for enlistments than the thrilling facts thus opportunely given us by this journalist, and the great end which it is rumored is to be accomplished by Burnside and Hancock.

It has hitherto been the policy of the traitors to deny the oft-repeated statements of cruelty practised and suffering endured; but the report of the editor of the Enquirer proves conclusively how false have been those denials, and how horrible the wretchedness and misery which have been the lot of the patriots and heroes in the Richmond prisons.

A Powerful Ally in Behalf of the Constitutional Abolition of Slavery.—The Catholic Telegraph, the official organ of the Arch-bishop of Cincinnati, in closing a strong and earnest editorial against the continuance of the institution of Southern slavery, says that "the absolute necessity for its extinction before anything can be accomplished for the repose of the nation has taken hold of the minds and hearts of the people, and any attempt to retard the popular will must end in disaster;" that "we are particularly pleased with the change which has taken place in the sentiment of Catholics on this subject;" that party prejudice is giving way under the pressure of public opinion, and finally, says the Telegraph, "we hope the day is near when a clause in the Constitution will proclaim liberty to all men within the limits of the United States."

THE STATE SENATE UNLOCKED.—Dr. T. St Clair, the Union candidate for Senator to fill the vacancy created by Jeff. Davis holding on to Major White as a prisoner, is elected by twelve hundred majority. The new Senator will take his seat this week, when the "snaix" will have to take to the high grass.

THE ENROLMENT BILL.

The enrolment bill, as agreed upon by the committees of conference, passed both Houses of Congress on Friday last; and has been approved by the President. It provides that the President of the United States shall be authorized, whenever he shall deem it necessary during the present war, to call for such number of men for the military service as the public exigencies may require. The quota of each ward of a city, town, township, precinct, or election district of a county, where the county is not thus divided, shall be as nearly as possible in proportion to the number of men resident therein liable to render military service, taking into account, as far as practicable, the number which has been previously furnished. In ascertaining and filling the quota, there is to be taken into account the number of men who have heretofore entered the naval service of the United States and whose names are already returned to the office of the Provost Marshal General. If the quotas shall not be filled within the time designated by the President, the provost marshal is to make a draft for the number deficient, but all volunteers who may enlist after the draft shall have been ordered, and before it shall be actually made, shall be deducted from the number ordered to be drafted in any ward town, township, precinct, or election district or county. If the quota of any district shall not be filled by the draft made in accordance with the provisions of this act and the law to which this is an amendment, further drafts shall be made and like proceedings had until the quota of such district shall be filled. Persons enrolled may furnish at any time previous to the draft an acceptable substitute who is not liable to draft, and such person thus furnishing a substitute shall be exempt from draft not exceeding the time for which such substitute shall have been accepted. Any person drafted may, before the time fixed for his appearance at the draft rendezvous furnish an acceptable substitute, subject to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War.

If any drafted person shall hereafter pay money for the procuration of a substitute, such payment shall operate only to relieve the person from draft on that call, and his name shall be retained on the roll, and he shall be subject to draft in filling that quota, and his name shall be retained on the roll in filling future quotas; but in no instance shall the exemption of any person on account of his payment of commutation money for the procuration of a substitute extend beyond one year, but at the end of one year in every such case the name of any person so exempted shall be enrolled again, if not before returned to the enrolment list under the provisions of this section.

The boards of enrolment are required to enroll all persons liable to draft whose names may have been omitted by the proper enrolling officer, all persons who shall arrive at the age of twenty years before the draft, all aliens who shall declare their intentions to become citizens, all persons discharged from the military service of the United States who have not been in such service two years during the present war, and all persons who have been exempted under the provisions of the second section of the enrolment act, but who are not exempted by the provisions of the present act; and the said boards of enrolment shall release and discharge from draft all persons who, between the time of the enrolment and the draft, shall have arrived at the age of forty-five years, and shall strike the names of such persons from the enrolment. Any marine, or able or ordinary seaman, who shall be drafted, shall have the right, within eighty days after the notification of such draft, to enlist in the naval service as a seaman, and be exempt from the draft. Any person now in the military service of the United States, who shall furnish satisfactory proof that he is a mariner by vocation, or an able seaman, may enlist into the navy under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the President of the United States; provided that such enlistment shall not be less than the authorized term of his military service, not for less than one year; and the bounty which any mariner or seaman enlisting from the army into the navy may have received from the United States, or from the State in which he enlisted in the army, shall be deducted from the prize money to which he may become entitled during the time required to complete his military service; and provided further, that the whole number of such transfer enlistments shall not exceed 10,000. Enrolments in the naval service are to be credited to the draft.

The following persons are exempted from the enrolment and drafts, namely: Such as are rejected as physically and mentally unfit for the service; all persons actually in the military or naval service of the United States at the time of the draft, and all persons who have served in the military or naval service two years during the present war and been honorably discharged, and no persons but such as are herein exempted shall be exempt.

So much of the enrolment act as provides for two classes of enrolment is repealed, and they are now consolidated.

Any person forcibly resisting or aiding to resist or oppose the enrolment etc., shall, upon conviction thereof, in any court competent to try the offence, be punished by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding five years or both of these punishments, in the discretion of the court. And in cases where assaulting, obstructing, hindering, or impeding shall produce the death of the officer or other persons, the offender shall be deemed guilty of murder, and, on conviction, be punished with death.

The Secretary of War is authorized to detail additional surgeons for temporary duty in the examination of drafted persons, and he is authorized to permit or require boards of examination to hold their examinations at different points within their enrolment districts, to be determined by him.

Provost marshals, boards of enrolment, or any member thereof, have power to summon witnesses in behalf of the Government, and to enforce their attendance.

Members of religious denominations who shall by oath or affirmation declare that they are conscientiously opposed to the bearing of arms, and who are prohibited from doing so by the rules and articles of faith and practice of such religious denomination, shall, when drafted into the military service, be considered non-combatants, and shall be assigned by the Secretary of War to duty in the hospitals, or to the care of freedmen, or shall pay the sum of $300, to be applied to the benefit of the sick and wounded soldiers:—Provided, That no person shall be entitled to the benefit of this section unless his declaration of conscientious scruples against bearing arms shall be supported by satisfactory evidence that his deportment has been uniformly consistent with such declaration.

No person of foreign birth shall, on account of alienage, be exempted from enrolment or draft who has, at any time, assumed the rights of a citizen by voting at any election held under the authority of the laws of any State or Territory, or of the United States, or who has held any office under such laws, or any of them; but the fact that such person of foreign birth has voted or held, or shall vote or hold office, shall be taken as conclusive evidence that he is not entitled to exemption from military service on account of alienage.

Any person drafted and liable to render military service, who shall procure exemption by fraud or false representation, is to be deemed a deserter, to be punished as such, and held to service for the full term for which he was drafted, reckoning from the time of his arrest; provided that the Secretary of War may order the discharge of all persons in the military service who are under the age of 18 years at the time of the application for their discharge, when it shall appear, upon due proof, that such persons are in the service without the consent, either express or implied, of their parents or guardians, and provided that such persons, their parents or guardians, shall first repay to the Government, and to the State and local authorities, all bounties and advance pay which may have been paid to them.

Any person who shall procure, or attempt to procure, a false report from the surgeon of the board of enrolment, concerning the physical condition of any drafted person, or a decision in favor of such person by the board of enrolment, upon a claim to exemption, knowing the same to be false, shall, upon conviction in any district court or circuit court of the United States, be punished by imprisonment for the period for which the party was drafted.

The fee of agents and attorneys, for making out, and causing to be executed, papers in support of a claim for exemption from draft, or for any service rendered to the claimant, shall not in any case exceed five dollars; and physicians or surgeons, furnishing certificates of disability, and any officer, clerk, or deputy, connected with the board of enrolment, who shall receive compensation from any drafted man for any services, or obtaining the performance of such services required from any member of the board by the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a high misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be fined not exceeding $500, and shall also be subject to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one yr. at the discretion of the court.

No member of the board of enrolment, and no surgeon detailed or employed to assist the boards of enrolment, and no clerk, assistant, or employee of any provost marshal or board of enrolment, shall directly or indirectly be engaged in procuring, or attempting to procure, substitutes for persons drafted, or liable to be drafted, and any surgeon making a false or incorrect report, or who shall wilfully neglect to make a faithful inspection and true report, and any member of the board of enrolment who shall wilfully agree to discharge from service any drafted man, who is not legally and properly entitled to discharge, are to be punished by fine and imprisonment.

All able-bodied male colored persons between the ages of 20 and 45 years, resident in the United States, shall be enrolled according to the provisions of the enrolment act, and to this amendatory act, and form part of the National forces; and when a slave of a loyal master shall be drafted and mustered into the service of the United States, his master shall have a certificate thereof. Thereupon such slave shall be free, and the bounty of $100 now payable by law for such drafted men shall be paid to the person to whom such drafted person was owing service or labor at the time of his muster into the service of the United States.

The Secretary of War shall appoint a commission in each of the States represented in Congress, charged to award to each loyal person to whom the colored volunteer may owe service, a just compensation, not exceeding $300 to each colored volunteer, payable out of the fund derived from commutation, and every such colored volunteer on being mustered into the service shall be free; and in all cases where men of color have been heretofore enlisted, or have volunteered in the military service, all the provisions of this act, so far as the payment of bounty and compensation is provided, shall be equally applied to those who may be hereafter recruited, but men of color drafted or enlisted, or who may volunteer into the military service, while they shall be credited on the quotas of the several States or subdivisions of States wherein they are respectively drafted, enlisted, or shall volunteer, shall not be assigned as State troops, but shall be mustered in to regiments or companies as United States colored volunteers.

The words precincts and election districts, as used in this act, are not to be construed to require any subdivision for the purpose of enrolment and draft less than the wards into which any city or village may be divided, or the towns or townships into which any county may be divided.

WAR FOR THE UNION.

FROM WESTERN VIRGINIA.

Cincinnati, Feb. 20.—A special despatch to the Commercial, from Louisa Ky., says that on the 14th inst., Col. Gallup surprised Col. Ferguson's command, in Wayne county, Va., capturing sixty prisoners, including Ferguson, his surgeon, and two Lieutenants.

Eighty stand of arms, a large number of stolen horses and all the rebel supplies of forage, ammunition and subsistence were taken. It was Colonel Ferguson's command that captured Gen. Scammon a short time since.

The despatch adds that 1,600 Union prisoners were released.

FROM TENNESSEE.

Rebels Leaving Tennessee and Georgia by Thousands—The People Starving—Rebel Deserters—Rebel Scrip Five cents on the Dollar.

Cairo, Feb. 19.—Reliable information from South east Tennessee says that refugees are leaving Tennessee and Georgia by thousands, many of them in a starving condition.

The steamer O'Brien, in the Government service, was burned at the landing at Columbus, Ky., to day. The boat and cargo is a total loss.

Longstreet in Full Retreat.

CHATTANOOGA, Feb. 19.—Adjutant General Thomas and staff have returned here from Knoxville. Officers of the party report that Longstreet is in retreat beyond the French Broad river, to avoid a movement of our greatly superior forces.

Nashville and Knoxville are connected by railroad, with the exception of seven hundred yards at London, and passenger trains are running. The bridge at London will be finished before a week. Johnston has concentrated his forces at Dalton, and advanced his picket line to Ringgold, but is fearful of an attack, and cannot spare reinforcements for Polk.

The Mobile News says that Poly has been shamefully outgeneralled bd Sherman, who had advanced beyond Meridian between the Bishop and Montgomery; and the Marietta Rebel has rumors of a hard fight in Mississippi, on the 13th inst.

A tide of veteran volunteers is being sent to the front, every car on the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad being wanted for their transportation. Everything is quiet here, although we are in a condition to move immediately.

FROM CHARLESTON.

Morris Island, S. C, Feb. 4, 1864.—Every few days we get reliable news from the other side, some of the most interesting of which however is contraband. We know pretty well the situation of things in Charleston, and the damage our shells are doing. A few days ago a shell passed through a house into the cellar, hitting on its way down a chair that stood at the foot of a bed on which a man and his wife were sleeping. Another shell on its way to the cellar actually passed thro' the bed, and between a negro and wife sleeping in it. In either instance no injury was done to persons. All the necessaries of life are almost at starvation point. Think of flour selling at $130 and $150 per barrel! Common lace boots are $150 per pair, and calf-skin high boots are $250 per pair.

We have learned considerable about Sumter of late. Since our last bombardment they have erected three strong bomb-proofs inside the fort to protect their men. They are covered with sand and the debris from the walls. They have four brass guns mounted on the bombproofs, to fire down on an assailing party. On the Sullivan's island side, in the lower tier of casements, they have mounted four heavy guns, which command the channel. The garrison numbers three or four hundred men, who are relieved by others at stated intervals. A number of torpedoes have been sunk to anchors in the channel; and among other things are two old boilers filled with powder, one of which contains three thousand pounds. They are sunk in deep water and it is arranged to explode them from the shore by means of a wire.—They have constructed small steamers something like the one that made a former attempt, to come out and blow the iron clads. They are building four new iron clads, one of which is two hundred feet long and plated with four-inch iron. The other three are smaller and about the size of the two they have already afloat. A few days ago one of our shells exploded upon the deck of this large new iron clad, but did no damage.

There are no places of business open in the lower part of the city, except two grogshops. The big gun the rebels imported from our neutral English friends is mounted in the city, and points down the harbor. The bore is thirteen inch, and the ball weighs 700 pounds. It is rifled. Its mate burst at the first discharge. The steeple of St. Michael's Church has been struck twice, but not much injured. This is the most beautiful spire in the city, and the plan is said to have been drawn by Sir Christopher Wren, the architect of St. Paul's, London. The church was built considerably more than a hundred years ago.

THE BIG FOOT REGIMENT.—A requisition was made lately on the Government for boots for the colored regiment in camp at Quincy, Illinois. The sizes were so enormous that they could not be procured at Chicago, and the agent had to telegraph to Washington to know what was to be done. He was ordered to have the regimental feet measured and send the result to Washington, so that the boots could be constructed there. The sizes range from tens to twenties This regiment will be apt "to trample on the rights of the South."

☞ "I should think these carriage wheels must be fatigued after running all day," observed Sam. "Well, yes," replied Seth, taking a squint at them, "they do appear to be tired."

What Pennsylvania has quietly Done

An illustration of the quiet way in which our State has discharged her duty, and her whole duty, to the General Government, deserves to be told in print, in order that Governor Curtin and the banks of this State may receive some small share of the credit that should ever follow a faithful discharge of duty. As the writer of this article was present at the adoption of the plan, and has just learned how near it is to its final consummation, he will communicate them to the Commercial.

About the 17th of last July, half a dozen of the leading bankers of the State were in the Executive chambers, Harrisburg, to consult on some mode of paying off the 60,000 Pennsylvania Militia then returning from having aided in repelling the invasion of Pennsylvanian soil by the traitor hordes under General Lee. Governor Curtin said in substance, our troops ought to be discharged forthwith, to go home to their harvest fields; and, although the State has the money in her Treasury, I cannot draw a dollar out for any purpose, without the authority of law, I can call the Legislature, but that will take perhaps a month of time—the expense of keeping these soldiers will be doubled by so doing—their families at home will be uneasy—their harvests will go to waste for want of men to gather them. I have no power except to pledge myself to urge the Legislature to pay this money if Congress does not do it. Thomas M Howe represented the Pittsburgh Banks, Mr. Rodgers the Philadelphia, and some two or three others the banks of the interior.

The responsibility of using probably a million of dollars of the funds of the banks to be paid out in faith of Congress or the Legislature repaying the same might well startle Bank Directors accustomed to discount business paper. The conference took up some two hours, and at one time Governor Curtin ordered Secretary Slifer to make out a proclamation for an extra session of the Legislature. But better counsels prevailed—the money was advanced by the banks and the soldiers paid off as rapidly as it could be done. Not only paid off, but in the vouchers audited by the Controller of the Treasury at Washington with the last week, not dime was charged for any paymaster in disbursing this $680.000 or thereabouts.

This bill which I presume Congress will this week pass, appropriates $700.000 to cover some eight months' interest on this money advanced, but not a dollar has been stolen or even charged for handling the money. Well may Pennsylvania be proud of her worthy Governor and a few of her leading bankers, who thus quietly have saved a million of dollars to the General Government. I have no hesitation to say, thar had the usual official course been taken, an extra session of the Legislature called, and the soldiers retained until their accounts had been settled by paymasters, instead of seven hundred thousand dollars, one million seven hundred thousand dollars would have been required. —Pittsburgh Commercial, Feb. 18.

The Escape of the Union Prisoners from Richmond.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 17.—The escaped Union officers reached here this morning, and leave for Washington this afternoon. The account of their escape is full of thrilling interest; but, for prudential reasons, many of the particulars are withheld from publication at present.

They were fifty one days engaged in making a tunnel. Having managed to find access to the cellar of their prison they commenced to work, relieving one another as opportunity afforded. Their instruments were case-knives, pocket-knives, chisels and files. Twice they had to abandon their work and commence anew on account of obstructions, which they could not pass. They had hoped to avail themselves of a culvert, but found it impracticable. After getting through the wall they disposed of the excavated soil by drawing it out in a spittoon, which they attached to a cord.

This would be filled by the party at work in the tunnel and pulled out into the cellar by their companions, who disposed of it by spreading it in shallow layers over the floor, concealing it beneath the straw. The work was necessarily very slow. So close was the atmosphere in the tunnel that they could remain in it but a few moments at a time and their candles w'ld go out.

At one time they got so near the bed of the street that a small hole about the size of a stove-pipe broke thro' but fortunately this was not observed by the guard and was a great service, admitting air and enabling them to prosecute their work more rapidly.—The tunnel when completed was about 50 feet long, and opened into an old tobacco shed beyond the line of guards As soon as they found the way clear they emerged slowly in small squads of two and three, and sauntered off until they got clear of the guards, making their way towards the Williamsburg road by the shortest route. The darkness favored them, and the fact that all the rebel soldiers whom they met were habited in the army coats of Uncle Sam, which they had stolen from the supplies sent to our prisoners by our government, was of great help to them. Although they were attired in our army coats and many of them had their haversacks, they found the national uniform a better disguise than if they had been provided with genuine rebel uniforms.

In order to elude their pursuers, whom they knew would soon be on their track, they scattered as much as possible. Many were their hardships and sufferings and frequent their narrow escapes from the rebel cavalry, who next morning were bushwhacking in every direction for them.

The joy which they experienced when they first caught sight of our troops, sent out to help them and protect them from their pursuers cannot be expressed.

To the officers and men of the 11th Pennsylvania cavalry, whom they first met, they express the most profound gratitude for their unbounded kindness, and also bear testimony to the gallantry with which these gallant fellows pursued the rebel cavalry and rescued many of the way worn fugitives who otherwise would have been recaptured. There is good reason to hope that many more will yet come in safe.

The Enlistment of Veterans.

Some time since Captain J. Herron Foster addressed a letter to Colonel J. V. Bomford, A. A. Provost Marshal General of Pennsylvania, inquiring as to the right of crediting the veterans re-enlisting to certain districts in the State. Colonel Bumford did not reply to that letter, but referred it to the Provost Marshal General at Washington, from which Department the following reply was directed to be issued:

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Provost Marshal General's Office,
Washington City, D. C., Feb. 28, 1864.

Capt. J. Heron Foster, Provost Marshal 22d, District, Penna.—SIR: Your letter of the 28th ult., asking what assurances can be given committees in paying bounties to veterans that they will receive credit for, has been received.

It is not in the power of the Provost Marshal General to give any assurances of the kind, as the men are already enlisted and mustered into the service. The rolls are in the custody of the Adjutant General, and no change can be made in them without producing confusion and errors. The veterans have already received Government bounty and enlisted by virtue of it.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient serv't.,
HENRY E. MAYNADIER,
Captain U. S. Army.

The War in the Duchies.

On the 2d of February, the first conflict between the Prussians and the Danes took place. The town of Missunde, on the Schiel, was attacked vigorously, and after a six hours' conflict, the Prussians were repulsed. Several minor engagements are reported as having occurred on the 3d, 4th, and 5th of February. The latest intelligence is that the Danes have evacuated the town of Schleswig, and abandoned the important defensive line of the Dannerwerke, intending to make a stand at Flendsburg. Thus we have the beginning of a war which may become of great magnitude and very important in its results, in Europe.—The leading German powers are involved in it, and it is a question whether England, France, Russia and Sweden will keep out of it. If the Danes are unsustained by the Powers that made the treaty of 1851, of course they will be defeated and will lose the Duchies. The royal speech on the opening of the British Parliament is very positive in the declaration that the Duchies, under the treaty, are part of the inheritance of King Christian; but whether the words will be sustained by deeds is a question undecided. But the beginning of a war in Europe, however it may terminate, is a matter of importance also in this country.—There is less danger than ever, of interference with us, now that a war in Europe has begun.

A Rebel Exposure of Libby Prison.

[From the Richmond Enquirer, January 5.]

A shrewd inquirer into the quaint philosophy of human frivolities once asked the startling question, "What becomes of the pins?"—not of the millions which are manufactured, not of the millions which are used, but of the millions which are lost. Any one might be tempted to ask, "What becomes of the Federal officers who go into the Libby?" During more than six months of active campaigning, almost daily have they entered there, squad after squad, and yet that unfathomable reservoir of humanity does not overflow. How is it that the many who go in do not thrust some of the many who are already there tumbling out of the windows? We are forcibly reminded of the fable of the sick lion, who was visited in his cave by all the beasts of the field, except a cunning old fox, who coming last of all, refused to call upon his leonine majesty; shrewd Reynard noticed that all the footprints were directed inwards, and that none indicated that those who had gone in had ever come out again. In the same manner, the Libby takes in the captured Federals by scores, but lets none out; they are huddled up and jammed into every nook and corner; at the bathing troughs, around the cooking stoves everywhere, there is a wrangling, jostling crowd, at night the floor of every room they occupy in the building is covered, every square inch of it, by uneasy slumberers, lying side by side, and heel to head as tightly packed as if the prison were a huge, improbable box of nocturnal sardines. But the authorities who thus pack up the unfortunate prisoners, seem to be either heedless or ignorant of these facts. It is truly surprising that some pestilence has not already been the result of this indiscriminate herding together of human beings, who are thus forced constantly to breathe an impure air, and who are allowed no outdoor exercise.

They should have an open space outside, however limited, in which to obtain some respite from the unwholesome atmospheric diet; a piece of ground with a little patch of blue sky over it, and a gush of fresh air and a sprinkle of sunshine in it would be no tax upon the Confederate commissariat, and might at least render supportable a captivity which has become inevitable. Fresh air and sunlight, all physiologists tell us, are as absolutely essential to the economy of the human body as food and drink. If it should become necessary to reduce the diet of these prisoners to cold corn bread they will not have strength enough in them even to masticate it.

Exercise indoors is but a poor substitute, even provided the crowded condition of the prison would allow of it. The only apartment in the building where they can now walk is one of the lower rooms, used as their kitchen. the passer by may hear now and then of a morning the most demoniacal shouts proceeding from the gloomy interior of this room, and might really be led to believe that a serious set-to at fisticuffs was in progress. He would soon discover, however, that it was only a desperate effort at a game of foot-ball. Notwithstanding the almost impenetrable cloud of smoke from the stoves, which constitutes the atmosphere of the room, he might see these haggard players working away with a zeal which proves how much they need, more than how much they enjoy the exercise; he might see that uncouth black ball sent whirling hither and thither, and kicked at with an earnestness totally regardless of the proverbial sensibility of the human shin—kicked at as if the poor inanimate thing had done them some foul wrong which they meant fully to avenge, now that so admirable an opportunity presented itself; and he might now and then hear a triumphant shout, which proclaimed that the mutilated ball, more fortunate than its persecutors, in spite of the alarming vicissitudes of its tempestuous career, has been sent home.

There is no ruddy flush of health, however, about the prison faces, as the reward of so well disputed a contest; they look, after it, not invigorated, but pale and exhausted, and their shouts do not sound like the wholesome exuberance of mirth, but seem rather to shriek: "Let us out for a little while in the sunshine!" "Give us a breath of fresh air!" Locked up for many weeks and months, they have endured the suffocating heats of summer, and have felt the keenness of the wintry wind, without enjoying its purity. As soldiers they may resign themselves silently to the weary tedium, and to the unavoidable privations consequent upon captivity; but let it not be said of the Libby that it is, indeed "a bourne from which no traveler returns."

These men are kept here against our consent, and in direct opposition to the wishes of the Government, by the neglect of the despot for whom they have periled their lives. Forgetting the ignominious treatment accorded our own brave officers by the Government of which they are the servile tools, it should be our aim to make the contrast in treatment of prisoners so much in our favor that even old Abe Lincoln's face would tingle with the blush of shame. We notice that iron bars have been placed in the Libby Prison. This should have been done long ago. Some of the Yankee officers facetiously remarked that the precaution was a wise one, as Colonel Streight had fallen out of a rear window and hurt himself.

Border Loyalty.

Under this caption the Chambersburg Repository thus refers to the loyalty and disloyalty of the residents of Franklin county. Franklin county borders on a Slave State, and the citizens of the border Southern States have mingled freely and often become citizens of our section. Some such retained their Southern views, and heartily sympathized with the rebels in their effort to overthrow the Government; while a few of our own people have gone South, and inflated by the possible possession of a negro at some time of life, have generally made the meanest and most groveling Secessionists. But our people are not to be judged by these exceptional cases. The two Logans were Marylanders when the war broke out, and from kidnapping and voting the Democratic ticket when in our country, they naturally went with the traitors; but they offered their lives in vindication of their convictions, and are entitled to the same comities conceded to the Trimbles, the Lows, the Johnsons, and others of the same State, who created the tide of treason that swept the lesser lights over. Fitzhugh is a Marylander, and never had any other than a temporary residence in this county. When Longstreet was in Hagerstown in September, 1862, Fitzhugh ran off to join him; enlisted regularly in the rebel service on Friday, was captured on Saturday, imprisoned in Chambersburg on Sunday, and has ever since been an inmate of the Old Capitol Prison, in Washington. There are other former citizens of this county who are in the rebel army. One ex-member of the legislature (Colonel McAllister,) a native of Juniata, was a Colonel in the rebel service, and was confronted by his brother, Col. Robert McAllister, at the head of a Jersey regiment; and Gen. Dunn, once one of our Associate Judges, and a standing Democratic candidate for Canal Commissioner, is also in the rebel army although over seventy years of age. For many years there has been a steady stream of emigration from Southern Pennsylvania to the worn out lands of the slave breeders in Virginia, and there are scores in our county still who would be rebels if they were not greater cowards than traitors; but they are here, as elsewhere exceptions to the rule, for our people are, as a *class, as earnestly loyal as the citi*zens of any other section of Pennsylvania.

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

Young Boys Enlisting.

We are daily surprised to see the number of minors who are clothed in the "blues," after having been accepted and received their bounty. We like to see the patriotic spirit of the boys thus showing itself, but we think if these young boys would take a second thought, they would not be so eager to put their lives in jeopardy. We give this caution not that they wouldn't make good fighting soldiers, or even out-march the strongest veteran, but because they are more apt to catch disease,—are less able to withstand the hardships and privations of a vigorous campaign,—and other reasons, which they on reflection could find for themselves. The boys we have seen have no doubt forced their parents to consent, by hinting or boldly saying that they were determined to go to war. Every parent should strive to influence their young sons to give up this notion.

There are, we admit some instances in which youths, under the age of 18, (for it is to this class we now allude,) have overcome the trials and difficulties of a soldier's life, but the cases in the different army hospitals prove that the majority of the inmates are boys.

We are not one of those who wish to discourage enlistments, but, on the contrary, would be glad to see each township's quota filled, but when we see mere boys accepted into the service, to serve three years of hardships, while young men, older and stronger, could as readily go, we become resented, and feel it a duty to say something to prevent its repetition.

To see this spirit in these boys, we think, ought to make blush with shame all those older cowards, who cannot even be coaxed by the aid of bounties, into the army. Each of these home-guards should remember that every one of these noble youths who falls—falls as a sacrifice for him.

Written Posters.

We agree with our friend and co-temporary, Lutz, of the Shirleysburg Herald, in criticising and reproaching those who, notwithstanding the advance of enlightenment and refinement, imagine that it is economy to write their posters or handbills, instead of advertising them in their county paper, or getting them printed in order to post at desired places.

We cannot see what economy or good policy there is, in persons, who, living so close to printing establishments, can, in the face of the fact of losing time and labor, (to say nothing of the defective learning that some manifest,) write their handbills,—while to bring a copy of the samo to the nearest printing office and have the bills printed and circulated, would give them prominence in attracting attention; thus giving their notices, etc., more publicity, and bringing a better attendance to their sales, than if they had written and then posted the same.

Quota Filled.

Shirleysburg's quota we understand, is full, but it requires a few more dollars as well a few more men to fill the quota of Shirley township. She has been visited with agents from neighboring counties, who, with their pockets full of greenbacks are working on the affections of a few, inducing them to enlist. Such appears to be the case throughout all our townships. Huntingdon county and her patriotism are becoming popular.

Washington's Birth-Day.

Yesterday, Monday, the 22d, was Gen. Geo. Washington's birthday. Once again has it come amid strife and confusion, and the nation, which was wont to greet it with tears of joy and throbs of animation, now commemorates it in sobs of grief, and throes of agony. Let us each and all, however, look to Washington's worthy example in the midst of this crisis, and vigorously and consistently follow it, until we shall behold, as did he, in the days after the revolution, a haughty foe overcome by right and justice.

Fire in Mount Union.

The dwelling house of John Dougherty, Esq., in Mount Union, as we briefly noticed last week, was consumed by fire on Sunday night, the 14th, together with a large portion of his household furniture, and also his extensive and well selected library.—The fire is supposed to have originated in the roof, by a spark from the stove-pipe. It is presumed that the property was insured.

Another Soldier Gone.

WILLIAM GLAZIER, of Capt. Moore's Company, 147th Regt., at home on furlough, died at his father's residence on Saturday last. He had been sick but three or four days. He was buried by the honors of war on Monday afternoon.

A Boy Badly Hurt.

David McMurtrie, son of Wm. E. McMurtrie, was thrown from a horse on Friday evening last, and his foot getting fast in the stirrup was dragged some distance, receiving several bad cuts and bruises about the head, face and body. He is doing well.

Important Railway Movement.

A bill entitled "an act to incorporate the Susquehanna and Allegheny Valley Railroad," has been read in the House, looking to a new connection between Pittsburgh and the Eastern cities by way of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, to some point in Somerset county, and thence by a line yet to be built to Wrightsville, where it would tap the Reading and Columbia Railroad. The first sections set forth the names of the corporators, and gives the company authority to construct a railroad from a point on the Susquehanna river, at or near the borough of Wrightsville in the county of York, and thence to run westwardly by the most practicable route to the Broad Top and Allegheny coal fields in the counties of Bedford or Somerset, or either, with power to connect the same with any other adjacent railroad in this Commonwealth, and also to arrange and contract with any other railroad company whose road may be on the line of route or convenient thereto of the said Susquehanna and Allegheny railroad, for the use and occupation, in whole or in part, temporarily or permanently, of the said road or road bed, on such terms as may be mutually agreed upon between any such company and the company which may be organized under this act.

The Weather.

After enjoying for a few weeks a short season of balmy and delightful spring weather, we were again shocked on Wednesday last, by being visited with another cold and blustry blast of winter, which, luckily, did not long continue. Such weather as that, if constant, would freeze the blood of an Esquimaux or Greenlander.

☞ Recruiting officers, and those who have any thought of enlisting, should remember that the United States bounty of $300 to new recruits and $400 to veterans, will cease on the 1st of March. Those, therefore, who desire to avail themselves of that bounty must act promptly or lose it.

☞ A bill was introduced into the Senate on the 17th, for the support of the orphan children of soldiers or sailors who die in the service, which gives to each state eighty thousand acres of public lands, and thirty thousand additional for each Congressional district.

☞ Merchants and others are invited to read Card of Howell & Bourke, Manufacturers of Wall Papers, Window Curtain Papers, &c., &c, 4th & Market Sts., Philadelphia, in this issue. This is a reliable firm, and worthy of public patronage.

Fishing.

During the warm weather we had lately, the fishermen availed themselves of the opportunity to indulge in their favorite pastime, and met with "good luck."

APPALLING TRAGEDY.

From the Johnstown Democrat, Feb. 17.

We are called upon this week to chronicle one of the most heart-rending homicides that ever occurred in Johnstown, or even within the limits of Cambria county. In doing so we shall endeavor to adhere as closely to the facts as it is possible for one to do, who was an eye-witness to the scene from the beginning.

It appears that certain rumors gained publicity, so far as to come to the ears of Joseph Moore, of this city, implicating Jordon Marbourg in reference to alledged criminality with the former gentleman's wife. Whether these rumors are true or not, it is not our province to record. We may say, however, that Mr. Moore believed them to be true, and laboring under that impression, he threatened to shoot Mr. Marbourg and did it is said make threats to that effect on Wednesday or Thursday last.

On Friday morning last, struggling with that fearful excitement of mind that jealousy always produces, he met Mr. Marbourg coming out of the Post Office door, and seizing him with the left hand, flourishing a revolver in the right, he told him after a few moments conversation, to prepare for death, for he certainly intended to shoot him, and suiting the action to the words, he fired five shots, three taking effect in the head, one in the left breast, and one in the left arm. Mr. Marbourg fell forward on the pavement and expired immediately. Those who were present at first must have fled, as there was scarcely any one near when we arrived on the ground. As soon as we heard the reports of the pistol, we ran down the office stairs, and, aided by several others, raised Mr. Marbourg up, but he only breathed once or twice, when life was extinct. We aided in carrying the body first to Esquire Rutledge's office, and then to the residence of his family, where we witnessed a most appalling scene.

We believe Mr. Moore never attempted to deny that he shot the deceased; at the time justified the action—but on his leaving in the cars for jail he seemed to deeply regret the rash act.

We have never witnessed a more melancholy and terrible tragedy during our lifetime. Truly, "jealousy is the rage of a man." How the frantic spirit raves around the walls of its clay tenement! How revenge wells up from the deepest recesses of the heart and vindicate supposed insult! How the sullen spirit refuses all consolation but that which is sanctified by the blood of its doomed victim! How intently paralized, too, did that victim appear! A halo, stout, and rugged frame that might have easily defended itself against assault, stood passive as a lamb before the slaughter. Not a hand was raised; not a gesture was made; not one effort at self-defence! The occurrence becomes more strongly impressive on this account. Perhaps the deceased could not bring his mind to believe that his assailant was in earnest, as he was protesting his innocence of the charge, and was endeavoring to satisfy Moore of his error, in charging him with so great an offence. After Mr Moore had committed the terrible deed, he repaired to the office of Irwin Rutledge, Esq., and locked himself in by turning the bolt inside. He gave himself up to the authorities and was taken up to Ebensburg jail by officers Reilly and Strayer, on the 9:30 train. We may say here, that Mr. Moore has always been considered an inoffensive, peaceable, industrious man and a good citizen.

Jordan Marbourg has been a citizen of this place for the last twenty-five years; very respectably connected—upright, generous, kind hearted man, and an excellent citizen and neighbor. He was one of the firm of A. & J Marbourg and was known throughout the State as an honorable merchant and a first rate business man. His age was fifty one years, six months and sixteen days. He leaves a wife and nine children to mourn his loss.

Mr. Moore has one child, a promising boy of fifteen.

MARRIED,

At the M. E. Parsonage, in Huntingdon, Feb. 10th, by Rev. Jas. Brads, Mr. SELLARS RAUGH, and Miss SUE I. SENBERG, both of Alexandria.

By the Rev. G. Van Artsdalen, on Thursday evening, Feb., 11th, at the house of the bride's father, James Ferguson Elder of Dry Run, Franklin co, to Miriam Elizabeth, daughter of Samuel Goshorn, Esq., of Nossville, Tell Tp., this county.

DIED,

At his father,s residence, in Barree township, on the 13th inst., JOHN S. MILLER, eldest son of Jacob C. and Caroline Miller, aged 13 years 3 mos. and 4 days.

Once more we're called to mourn,
Another schoolmate's gone
To join the angel band above,
And be with Christ at home.

Why need we mourn for thee?
When thou art gone to rest;
No more to suffer here below,
But be forever blest.

Farewell dear Johnny thou hast crossed
The dark and dreaded river;
We hope to meet thee yet again
And part no more forever.

U. S. 5-20'S!
The Secretary of the Treasury has not yet given notice of any intention to withdraw this popular Loan from sale at Par, and until ten days notice is given, the undersigned, as "General Subscripton Agent," will continue to supply the public.
The whole amount of the Loan authorized is Five Hundred Millions of Dollars. Nearly Four Hundred Millions have been already subscribed for and paid into the Treasury, mostly within the last seven months. The large demand from abroad, and the rapidly increasing home demand for use as the basis for circulation by National Banking Associations now organizing in all parts of the country, will, in a very short period, absorb the balance. Sales have lately ranged from ten to fifteen millions weekly, frequently exceeding three millions daily, and as it is well known that the Secretary of the Treasury has ample and unfailing resources in the Duties on Imports and Internal Revenues, and in the issue of the Interest bearing Legal Tender Treasury Notes, it is almost a certainty that he will not find it necessary, for a long time to come, to seek a market for any other long or permanent Loans, THE' INTEREST AND PRINCIPAL OF WHICH ARE PAYABLE IN GOLD.
Prudence and self-interest must force the minds of those contemplating the formation of National Banking Associations, as well as the minds of all who have idle money on their hands, to the prompt conclusion that they should lose no time in subscribing to this most popular Loan. It will soon be beyond their reach, and advance to a hand some premium, as was the result with the "Seven-Thirty" Loan, when it was all sold and could no longer be subscribed for at par.
It is a six per cent. Loan, the Interest and Principal payable in Coin, thus yielding over Nine per cent. per annum at the present rate of premium on coin.
The Government requires all duties on imports to be paid in Coin; these duties have, for a long time past, amounted to over a Quarter of a Million of Dollars daily, a sum nearly three times greater than that required in the payment of the interest on all the 5-20's and other permanent Loans. So that it is hoped that the surplus Coin in the Treasury, at no distant day, will enable the United States to resume specie payments upon all liabilities.
The Loan is called 5-20 from the fact that whilst the Bonds may run for 20 years, yet the Government has a right to pay them off in Gold, at par, at any time after 5 years.
The interest is paid half-yearly, viz:—on the first days of November and May.
Subscribers can have Coupon Bonds, which are payable to bearer, and are $50, $100, $500, and $1,000, or Registered Bonds of same denominations, and in addition, $5000 and $10,000. For Banking purposes and for investments of Trust-monies the Registered Bonds are preferable.
These 5-20's cannot be taxed by States, cities, towns or counties, and the Government tax on them is only one and a half per cent., on the amount of income, when the income of the holder exceeds Six Hundred dollars per annum, all other investments, such as income from Mortgages, Railroad Stock and Bonds, etc., must pay from three to five per cent. tax on the income.
Banks and Bankers throughout the Country will continue to dispose of the Bonds, and all orders by mail, or otherwise, promptly attended to.
The inconvenience of a few days' delay in the delivery of the Bonds is unavoidable, the demand being so great but as interest commences from the day of subscription, no loss is occasioned, and every effort is being made to diminish the delay.

FLAX. FLAX.
THE HIGH PRICES RULING FOR Cotton Goods has compelled public attention to be more especially directed to the culture of Flax. It can be made by some attention, one of the most valuable products a farmer can produce; an acre readily producing 50 to 60 Dollars worth of fibre and seed. Great care should be taken by growers to have their Flax spread very thin when rolling; when watered sufficiently on one side, it should be turned, and subject to exposure until all the stalks get a grey color, and the lint readily separates from the wood by a gentle rub.
It should on a very dry day be tied in bundles, and is then ready for the mill. As a general thing too much seed is sown on an acre. Unless the ground is very rich one bushel per acre is sufficient. If the ground is very strong one and one fourth bushel is ample.

MEN WANTED FOR THE INVALID CORPS.
Only those faithful soldiers who, from wounds or the hardships of war, are no longer fit for active field duty, will be received in this Corps of Honor. Enlistments will be for three years, unless sooner discharged. Pay and allowance same as for officers and men of the United States Infantry; except that no premium or bounties for enlistment will be allowed. This will not invalidate any pensions or bounties which may be due for previous services.
For the convenience of service, the men will be selected for three grades of duty. Those who are most efficient and able-bodied, and capable of performing guard duty, etc., will be armed with muskets, and assigned to companies of the First Battalion. Those of the next degree of efficiency, including those who have lost a hand or an arm; and the least effective, including those who have lost a foot or leg, to the companies of the Second or Third Battalions; they will be armed with swords.
The duties will be to act chiefly as provost guards and garrisons for cities; guards for hospitals and other public buildings; and as clerks, orderlies, &c. If found necessary, they may be assigned to forts, &c.
Acting Assistant Provost Marshals General are authorized to appoint officers of the Regular Service, or of the Invalid Corps, to administer the oath of enlistment, to those men who have completely fulfilled the prescribed conditions of admission to the Invalid Corps, viz:
1. That the applicant is unfit for service in the field.
2. That he is fit for the duties, or some of them, indicated above.
3. That, if no now in the service, he was honorably discharged.
4. That he is meritorious and deserving.
For enlistment or further information, apply to the Board of Enrollment for the district in which the applicant is a resident.

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES WRINGER.
"A child can readily wring out a tubfull of clothes in a few minutes. It is really a CLOTHES SAVER! A TIME SAVER! and a STRENGTH SAVER! The saving of garments will alone pay a large per centage on its cost. We think the machine much more than pays for itself every year" in the saving of garments! There are several kinds, nearly alike in general construction, but we consider it important that the Wringer be fitted with Cogs, otherwise a mass of garments may clog the rollers, and the rollers upon the crank-shaft slip and tear the clothes, or the rubber break loose from the shaft. Our own is one of the first make, and it is as GOOD AS NEW after nearly FOUR YEARS' CONSTANT USE.
Every Wringer with Cog Wheels is Warranted in every particular.
No Wringer can be Durable without Cog Wheels.
A good CANVASSER wanted in every town.
☞ On receipt of the price from places where no one is selling, we will send the Wringer free of expense.

ROHRER'S PRACTICAL CALCULATOR.
A Book of Plain Rules and Calculations for Business Operations, by Martin M. Rohrer, Practical Surveyor and Conveyancer. New Edition, published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.

This work contains 204 pages, and upwards of 600 Rules and Examples, entirely new and thoroughly practical—such as arise every day in the common pursuits of business. It has already passed through a number of editions in rapid succession, and is pronounced by all classes of business men to be the handiest book of reference, pertaining to calculations, that has ever been published.

Every example in the book is worked out in full and stated in a plain manner, so that when a parallel case arises, those referring to the work will find no difficulty in solving it; in a word, the general arrangement of the CALCULATOR is simple, that any one who knows how to add, subtract, multiply and divide, can easily solve any ordinary example that arises in business, or arrive at the true result of any estimate required.

The chief aim of the author has been to eschew theory and philosophy in figures, aiming only at facts and simplicity, believing that business men care little about spending time in discussing the philosophy of rules, or the science of figures, deeming it sufficient for their purpose to be able at a moment, by reference, to arrive at the true result. The CALCULATOR differs in this respect from all other Arithmetics of the day and kindred works—it is a key to practical business calculations—it is, in the hands of the business man, what the key to mathematical works in the hands of the teacher in the school room—it facilitates time and insures correctness.

THE WORK TREATS OF THE

Measurement of Land, of Lumber, of Brick and Brick Work, of Stone and Stone work, of grain and grain bins of coal and coal bins, of wood, of solids, of liquids of circular, square or irregular vessels, of cisterns and vats, of roofing, of plasterer's, painter's, glazier's, paver's, plumber's, paper hanger's and upholsterers' work. It treats of currency and of foreign and domestic exchanges, of the decimal system, of reduction and its extended application to business, of simple and compound interest, and their entire application to business transactions, with the laws and usages governing the same, together with numerous commercial forms—of legal tender, of partial payment on notes, of banking and bank discount, of equation of payment and of partnership accounts, of assessment of taxes, of weights and measures, of square and cubic measure, of the square root and its application to business of surfaces, of excavation, and of many other important practical matters not within the scope of an advertisement to mention.

IT IS JUST THE BOOK FOR THE

Farmer, the merchant, the mechanic, the artizan, or the professional man. It has proven a valuable auxiliary to the lawyer, the justice of the peace, the conveyancer, and real estate broker, to the assessor, the banker, the clerk, to the civil engineer and the surveyor, to the carpenter and bricklayer, to the stonemason and the plasterer, to the paper hanger and upholsterer, to the paver and the miller, &c., &c.; each and all will find it adapted to their various wants better than any book published.

PENS! PENS!!
GET THE BEST!
THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST!
C. BARNARD'S
Celebrated "Corrugated Metal" Pens
ARE FOR SALE
AT LEWIS BOOK STORE,
Agent for the county.
PRICES—25 cts. per dozen or $2 per gross.

THE "CORRUGATED METAL" PENS, made by C. BARNARD, are the best Commercial and School Pens, without exception to any. They are used by all the principal Banks and Government Departments, Public and Private Schools; also, by the most prominent Commercial Houses throughout the United States and Canada.

But a short time has elapsed since have been introduced into the United States, still a marked preference is given them over all others for the following reasons: The "Corrugated Metal" PENS do not corrode; they will not splutter or cut through the thinest paper; they have an easy gliding motion, a certainty of equally diffusing the ink, softness of point, and great durability.

C. BARNARD'S PENS

The following testimonials, selected from numerous others, are respectfully submitted:

"I have used the Metallic Pens of Mr. C. Barnard and highly approve of them. C. BARSTOW,
President of St. Nicholas Bank, New York.

We have used the Pens of Mr. Barnard, and find them to be as he represents, and take pleasure in recommending them to the public. WELLS, FARGO & CO.,
A. MULLIGAN, Cashier.

C. Barnard's Pens have been tried, and are highly approved in this office. S. G. OGDEN, Auditor U. S. Custom House, New York.

Having tried the corrugated Pens made by Mr. Barnard, I can recommend them as excellent.
SAMUEL L. BREES R.,
Commandant Navy Yard, Brooklyn.

We add ours to above recommendations.
H. B. CROMWELL & Co., New York.

I have no hesitation in saying Barnard's Pens are decidedly the best I have ever used. C. MAY,
Agent United States Express Co., New York.

We can confidently recommend Mr. C. Barnard's Anti-Corrosive Pens as the best ever brought under our notice without exception.
WILKINSON, TETON & CO.,
Park Place, New York.
T. B. HUGHE, Cashier.

We have been using the Pens of Mr. C. Barnard, and take great pleasure in recommending them to the public, as they are an excellent article, and all he represents them to be. A. J. CLINTON,
Secretary Eagle Insurance Co., New York.

Upon trial we have found Mr Barnard's Pens to be excellent. FRED. PROBT & CO., New York.

I would recommend Mr. Barnard's Pens as a superior article to any I have used. GOUVR. KEMBLE, New York.

We add ours to the above recommendations.
UNDERHILL, HAVILAND & CO., New York.

Of all Pens I have ever used, Mr. Barnard's have given me more satisfaction, and I can recommend them to the public as being entirely anti-corrosive. E. POIRER, New York.

After six months' constant use of C. Barnard's Anti-Corrosive Pen, we can confidently recommend it as the best metallic pen we have ever used, finding from the above experience that it does not actually corrode.
McLEAN & CO., New York.

MILITARY BOOKS.
REVISED ARMY REGULATIONS.
BY AUTHORITY OF THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

The book is an octavo of 560 pages, is elegantly printed on fine paper, with new bold type, and has an admirable exhaustive index, for which every officer will be grateful, the moment his eye rests upon it, as no former edition has ever had an index, and the want of one has been long felt in the Army.

The Appendix embraces the Articles of War, containing
